A Few Rules of Netiquette*

1 When communicating with someone else, don't use rude or vulgar language or make hateful or racist remarks, no matter what your differences.

You don't have to put others down or insult them in order to socialize and have fun.

2 Instead of firing off a reply that you might later regret, wait a day before you answer. It's not how fast you react to a situation that counts, but how smart you are in handling it.

The whole world doesn't need to know your address or phone number! Save your personal information for the friends you know in real life.

4 Writing in caps might send the message that YOU'RE REALLY ANGRY.

Think before you write!
